—HAPPY CUSTOMER—

Beautiful! Perfect gift to brighten a room without live flowers.... especially for those with allergies, or in a hospital cancer ward where live flowers are not allowed. Brightened my sister's room and her spirits! –Sue

DID YOU KNOW?

Everyone loves flowers, but science backs it up! A study conducted by Rutgers University concluded that receiving flowers can positively impact one's emotional wellbeing: participants experienced decreased feelings of anxiety and elevated moods!

For loved ones visiting the hospital who can't get outside as much as they'd like, having flowers as a bedside companion is a thoughtful and wonderful gift as they continue to heal.
